

Ava Brooks has spent many years dancing at West Georgia Dance Center, where she discovered her love for dance and the joy of sharing it with others. A lifelong resident of Bremen, Georgia, Ava has always been passionate about connecting with her community through dance.

She especially enjoys working with the little ones, introducing them to the art form and watching their excitement as they learn and grow. Ava also loves being a welcoming face at the Bremen front desk, greeting students and families with kindness and making sure everyone feels at home. Outside of the studio, Ava attends West Georgia Technical College, where she continues to pursue her goals while carrying her love for dance and community with her. With her warm spirit, dedication, and heart for helping others, Ava is a cherished part of the West Georgia Dance Center.