

A woman with long brown hair, wearing a black top and a gold headband, is sitting on a white chair. She is smiling and looking towards the camera. The background is a light-colored wall with a window. The text is overlaid on a semi-transparent white box.

Aubree Bennett is the Kinder teacher at both the Bremen and Carrollton locations of West Georgia Dance Center. She has been part of the dance world for over 12 years and has always loved the creativity, energy, and competitive spirit it brings.

Working with kindergarten dancers is one of the highlights of her day, as she loves seeing their excitement light up the studio. Having looked up to her own teachers as a dancer, Aubree strives to be a positive role model for her students—helping them grow not only as dancers, but also as confident, supported, and motivated individuals.

Aubree values the family-like atmosphere at West Georgia Dance Center and feels truly connected to the staff and families she works with. Outside of dance, she enjoys shopping, spending time at the beach, and making cherished memories with her family.